Complete Anarchy---Civil War Breaks Out

Banks Barricaded and Public Buildings Seized by Spartacans or Extreme Radical Groups—Thousands of Armed Men Crowd Streets—Sound of Machine Gun Fire Heard—Hundreds Fleeing—Big Demonstration

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 7.—Berlin is in a state of complete anarchy and civil war has begun there, according to the Munich correspondent of the Politikon. His information, he says, is based on telephonic messages from Berlin.

All the banks are barricaded, and a great number of the public buildings are in the hands of the Spartacan or extreme radical groups.

Thousands of armed workmen of the Spartacus faction, the correspondent reports, are crowding the streets and at several points firing has begun. The sound of machine gun fire could be heard from all parts of Berlin. The message reported the intention of the government to make an effort to storm the building of the police guards later in the day and take possession of all the machine guns and cannon there.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Spartacan leader, has been here and there about the city organizing his troops for the final fight, which the correspondent says, is expected to begin very soon.

Hundreds of persons are reported fleeing from the city.

PRELIMINARY TREATY

Acceptance of League of Nations, Indemnity Specifications and New Frontiers

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The preliminary peace conference is likely to last three months, according to Marcel Huin in the Echo de Paris.

"At the end of the second month," he says, "after complete agreement between the great belligerent powers, the treaty will be ready for submission to the enemy plenipotentiaries for their signatures."

"The preliminary treaty will contain, first, a clause by which the entire accepts a league of nations; second, specifications of the amount of indemnity payable by Germany and the methods of payment; third, a definition of the new frontiers."

REPUBLICANS OPPOSED FAMINE FUND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Republican opposition to the $100,000,000 appropriation requested by President Wilson for European relief was manifested today in both branches of congress. In the house, Representative Moore of Pennsylvania blocked consideration of a bill carrying the appropriation by refusing unanimous consent to take it up either today or Thursday. Chairman Sherley of the appropriations committee said he would seek a special rule to set action Thursday.

Senators Borah and Smoot also opposed the measure unless more information regarding plans for the use of the money was forthcoming.

U. S. CARTRIDGE WORKS

Government Induced by Mr. Rogers and Lowell Delegation to Continue Work

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Congressmen Rogers and Lowell delegates late yesterday won a notable victory regarding the continuance of munition contracts by the United States Cartridge company. The contracts will not be cancelled with an abruptness which will cripple either the industry of work men or bring hardship on the employees. Mr. Rogers, with John M. O'Donoghue, W. Larkin and George H. McCabe spent most of the day at the Ordnance bureau urging a modification of cancellation orders before General Pierce, assistant chairman of Ordnance. After their conference with General Pierce, the matter was referred to the board of review and earlier last evening they rendered a decision. General Pierce then informed Mr. Rogers that the review board had voted to leave uncancelled a sufficient portion of the existing cartridge contracts with the United States Cartridge company so that work will be continued for a period of eight to ten weeks. However, the tapering down process will begin immediately and the number of employees over and above the regular peace time establishment will be gradually reduced to zero. Lowell is far more fortunate in the decision of the board than has been other New England cities, for in many instances no modification of complete cancellation of munition contracts has been effected although strong efforts have been made by members of congress and representatives of munitions states. The success of Mr. Rogers and the Lowell delegation is quite notable.

INVESTIGATING FIRE AND WATER DEPARTMENTS

Commissioner Charles J. Morse, who yesterday was assigned to the fire and water departments, stated this afternoon that he has started an investigation of both departments and that as soon as that work is completed there may be something doing. Mr. Morse believes that both departments are overloaded with help and he states that if he finds that such is the case he will curtail as soon as his investigation is completed.

"When I first took charge of the street department a few years ago," he continued, "my first move was to get a peep at the payroll in order to determine just how many men were in the employ of the department and I found that I could dispose of three foremen and the assistant superintendent of streets. I acted accordingly and to my satisfaction I saved the city several thousand dollars each year. My policy with the fire and water departments will be the same and if conditions are as I think they are, there will be a few drops from the payroll in both departments. I expect to conclude my investigation in a few weeks at which time I will make public the exact conditions of both departments."

NO MORE BRITISH TROOPS FOR RUSSIA

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The British government has not the slightest intention of sending any more troops to Russia. It is announced. Not more than 20,000 British troops are in Russia. A number of these are non-combatants, the announcement states, and they are being brought back as quickly as possible.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Hassan Mohammed Accuses Amad Hassan of Larceny—Other Cases Heard

Amad Hassan was called on continuance in police court this morning, charged with the larceny of $1400 from Hassan Mohammed. The alleged theft occurred about the middle of last November. Mohammed told the court that he had been in the habit of carrying his money in a money-belt, and that sometimes he took off the belt and hid it in the mattress in his bed room. A short time before the alleged theft, Mohammed said, he had loaned the sum of $300 to a friend of his, and at the time of the transaction, defendant had been one of the persons in the room, and had witnessed the while affair. Different witnesses were called, and testified at some length. After hearing all of the testimony, the court made a finding of "not probable cause" and ordered the discharge of the defendant.

BERLIN GUARDS CARRY HAND GRENADES

BERLIN, Monday, Jan. 6.—(By the Associated Press).—Streets leading to the chancellors palace and the Tiergarten this afternoon were full of crowds hurrying to the respective demonstrations—the Spartacans in the Steglitz and the government supporters at the chancellors palace in Wilhelmstrasse. The guards in front of the foreign office and the other government buildings are equipped with hand grenades. The government has issued an appeal to all its supporters for demonstrations against the Spartacans. The factories in the city are deserted.

A rumor that the bolsheviks had seized the central telegraph office and the Reichsbank proved to be unfounded, but the situation is most tense.

KAISER CAN'T COME BACK

Unthinkable That He or Member of Family Will Again Rule, Says Bernstorff

Former Ambassador Busy Preparing Data for Peace Conference

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States is working every day at the German foreign office preparing data for the peace conference, according to a Berlin despatch to the Express. To the Express correspondent, he said that he endorsed the plan for a league of nations which he believed to be practical. He said that in his view the only way to prevent war by a limitation of armaments.

"We entirely agree with Premier Lloyd George and want to get rid of universal military service," he said. He thinks that the German national assembly will meet on Jan. 23, but believes that it is unlikely to pass off without trouble, and hopes that the government will be firm enough to deal with the situation.

"They will only have to shoot once," he said, in discussing the subject. It is unthinkable that the former emperor or any member of his family will again rule over Germany, he said. Asked if there was no danger in Holland, the count replied: "Where the h— were we to send him?"

DEFEAT FOR THE POLES

Driven From Lubachoff by Ruthenians—Many Women in Polish Ranks Killed

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Ruthenian troops advancing on Lemberg fought Polish troops including a division of women, which suffered severe losses, many of the women being captured, according to a Central News despatch from Copenhagen, quoting Vienna advices Saturday.

The Ruthenians attacked with 20,000 rifles on a front of 13 miles. The Poles were driven from Lubachoff, northwest of Lemberg, and the Ruthenians surrounded Lemberg.

Fighting in Posen

BERLIN, Saturday, Jan. 5.—(By the Associated Press).—There has been further shooting in Posen and lively street fighting between the Poles and house guards at Gnesen and Strelow, according to despatches received here. All rail traffic to Gnesen has been stopped. In Bromberg, northeast of Posen, the representatives of the German government have been arrested by the Polish soldiers and workmen's council.

Polish troops are reported continuing their advance northeastward parallel to the railway from Kreuz, through Schneidemühl to Danzig. At a point west of Schneidemühl, German troops are concentrated to contest the Polish advance.

The difficulties with which the Berlin government has to contend in its desire to protect the eastern districts is indicated by a report from Brunswick that the state government has issued a sharp protest against the formation of a corps of volunteers for service against the Poles.

BIG FIRE BREAKS OUT AT HALIFAX, N. S.

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 7.—The city's entire fire fighting force was called out today when a blaze which started in the Roy building, one of the large business structures in Halifax, spread to adjoining buildings and threatened the important business section bounded by Barrington, Sackville, Granville and Prince streets.

After a hard fight the firemen checked the blaze which completely wiped out the Roy block. Early estimates placed the loss at $500,000.

PRES. WILSON BACK IN PARIS

Returns to French Capital After Successful Trip to Italy

Addressed the People of Turin, Italy, as "Fellow Citizens"

PARIS, Jan. 7.—(Havas).—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson, arrived here at 10.10 a. m., from Italy.

The program for President Wilson's return to Paris called for his immediately proceeding to the Marais mansion to begin conferences preliminary to the peace conference.

Address at Turin

TURIN, Monday, Jan. 6.—President Wilson's address on the balcony of the municipal building at Turin today, was as follows:

"My friends of Turin: I now have the privilege of addressing you as my fellow citizens. It is impossible at this distance that my voice should reach all of you, but I want you to know that I bring the affectionate greetings of the United States to the people of Italy and the great city of Turin. My sentiment coming from the heart, is the sentiment of our people. Viva Italia!"

In responding to an address by the mayor of Turin at a luncheon President Wilson said in part:

"Think of the price at which you and I have purchased the victory which we have won. Thinking of the price of blood and treasure not only, but the price of tears and the price of hunger on the part of little children, of the hopes delayed or the dismayed prospects that bore heavy upon the homes. Those of us who plan battles and those of us who conduct political movements do not bear the burden of it. We direct and the others perform, and the conquest of spirit is greater than the conquest of arms."

"These are the people that never let go. They say nothing. They live merely from day to day, determined that the glory of Italy or that the glory of the United States shall not depart from her."

"I have only this suggestion before we go to Paris to conclude a peace. You stay here to continue it. We can start the peace but it is your duty to continue it. We can only make the large conclusions. You constantly retrace the detail which constitutes the processes of the life of a nation."

WILSON PLANS SECOND TRIP TO FRANCE

PARIS, Jan. 7.—President Wilson will return to the United States to attend the closing sessions of the present congress, according to present plans, and will come back to France after March 4, for the later sittings of the peace congress.

The president will make several addresses to congress concerning the settlement of the war and the establishment of a peace which it is hoped will be durable.

President Wilson, according to present plans, intends to leave Europe, about February 12 for the United States.

Opposes Secret Session

ALLAN, Sunday, Jan. 6.—(By The Associated Press).—The editor of the Corriere della Sera made the following statement today concerning whether the peace conference should be secret or public:

"We hate to think that the doors of the conference will remain closed at Paris or Versailles as they remained closed at Vienna a century ago and that the only information we shall have about the discussions there will be the inspired and perhaps hypocritical, communiques which leave behind them the excited whisper of rumors affording ample scope for suspicion, distrust, alarm, resentment, rancor and bitterness. The end of the war increased certain responsibilities. Those on whom the burden of these responsibilities

McCUMBER FOR SHOCKED OVER WILSON'S PLAN COLONEL'S DEATH

First Republican Senator To Voice Approval of President's Proposal

Favors Immediate Establishment of League of Nations With Germany a Member

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Immediate establishment of a league of nations, with Germany as a member, was urged in the senate today by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, the first republican member of the senate to voice approval of President Wilson's proposal for such an organization.

The first clause of a compact for such a league, he said, should declare "that each independent nation of the world as it shall exist at the time this compact shall be executed, has the right to live and work out its own destiny, free from any imposing danger of any mighty military neighbor."

"With such a solemn compact of nations, executed by all the great nations of the world, said the senator, 'the danger of any great war would be pressed far into the realm of impossibility. Does anybody believe that if such a great international agreement had been in existence prior to 1914, even Germany, with her autocratic and irresponsible government would have dared break her compact? I want this bond and I want Germany's signature to this bond. She has been the only country that has threatened the peace of the whole world for the last 45 years and to meet her threat, every other nation has had to keep itself armed to the teeth and weighted to the verge of poverty to maintain mighty armaments."

"And as deeply as I hate Kaiserism and the abominable doctrines of military Germany, I believe we should extend the hand of brotherhood and friendship to democratic Germany, when its people have repudiated the stigmas of real German character and have steered their country clear of the worse madness, bolshevism."

Senator McCumber said the league would strengthen the Monroe Doctrine as all nations would be bound to respect the territorial integrity of the Central and South American republics, whereas now only the United States guaranteed their integrity.

He said the congress at Versailles might find it necessary to return to Belgium all of the territory wrested from her in 1839 and thus make the Rhine the western boundary of Germany.

"The allies," he said, "may deem this necessary to place Germany in a position where the wicked teachings of her military and political rulers which brought on this war, cannot in the future influence any great portion of Europe and thus re-endanger its peace and safety."

CHECKS FOR $6395.58

Share of Hapgood Wright Legacies Turned Over to City Treasurer

Two checks, amounting in all to $6395.58, were received at the city solicitor's office today and turned over to the city treasurer. They came from Frank E. Dunbar, trustee under the will of Hapgood Wright, who died in 1894, and the money represented the distributive share of Mr. Wright's legacies due to the city.

The money cannot be used by the city at the present time, however, it will go on interest until 1926 and the city government will at that time be able to expend the accrued interest for some purpose designed by it for the general good of the city. The principal will always remain intact.

At the expiration of another 50 years, 1976, the city government then will be entitled to expend the interest which will have accrued in the half century for any legitimate purpose it wishes.

Mr. Wright's will provided that upon the death of his daughter, Ann Hill Fay, the residue of his estate should be distributed among four institutions, each of which would receive one-eighth and the other four-eighths would go to the city of Lowell. His daughter died a few years ago and the estate has just been cleared up.

At a meeting of the municipal court held early in November of last year, the city solicitor was instructed to draw up a release in the matter upon the receipt of $242.75. A check for this amount was received today and accompanied it, representing interest since the settlement of the trustee's account.

LOWELL FOX HUNTERS

Several local fox hunters are planning on taking a trip to Bedford this week to participate in the 14th annual winter meet of the New England Fox Hunting club which opened there yesterday morning. Among the local hunters who are thinking of betaking themselves to the turf are Fred Adams a well known fox hunter, and Herbert Nixon. Both of these men claim that their dogs are second to none in New England, and it is probable that on their return several of the genus fox will have stolen their last chicken.

President Sends Cablegram From Italian-Franco Frontier to Mrs. Roosevelt

Plans for Unostentatious Funeral Tomorrow Being Perfected by Family

Airplanes Maintain Vigil—Nation Mourns—Messages of Condolence Pour In

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt received during the night, a cablegram of sympathy from President Wilson, dated Modena (On the Franco-Italian frontier) and reading as follows:

"Pray accept my heartfelt sympathy on the death of your distinguished husband, the news of which has shocked me very much."

This was one of more than 500 telegrams and cablegrams which poured into Oyster Bay during the night. They came from private citizens, rough riders, ambassadors, ministers, congressmen—men of all ranks and distinction and women too.

From Queen Mother of England

Alexandra, queen mother of England, cabled the following:

"I am indeed grieved to hear of the death of your great and distinguished husband, for whom I had the greatest regard. Please accept my deepest sympathy on the irreparable loss you have suffered."

Ex-Pres. Taft's Tribute

From former President Taft came the following: dated Harrisburg, Pa.: "I am shocked to hear the bad news. My heart goes out to you and yours in great sorrow. The country can ill afford in this critical period of history to lose one who has done so much in the next decade have done so much for it and humanity. We have lost a great patriotic American, a great world figure, the most commanding personality in our public life since Lincoln. I mourn his going as a personal loss. Mrs. Taft and I tender you our sincere and deepest sympathy."

AIRPLANES MAINTAIN A CEASELESS VIGIL

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—With the flags of Oyster Bay at half staff and its citizens in deep mourning over the death yesterday of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, arrangements for the unostentatious funeral services here tomorrow were being perfected by members of the family today. High in the air over Sagamore Hill, army airplanes from Hazelhurst field, maintained a ceaseless vigil, occasionally swooping toward the earth to drop a wreath of laurel among the elms near the mansion.

In accordance with the wishes of the former president expressed to Mrs. Roosevelt, the obsequies will be of almost spartan simplicity. First, there will be a prayer tomorrow at the house, attended only by relatives. At 12.15 o'clock, the Protestant Episcopal service for the dead will be read in Christ church by the rector, the Rev. George E. Talmadge. There will be no music, no eulogy, no honorary pallbearers. Mrs. Roosevelt has requested that no flowers be sent. Present and former employees of the Roosevelt estate probably will carry the coffin.

Burial will be in Young's Memorial cemetery—the God's Acre of the old Young's farm. Col. Roosevelt will lie among the fir trees on the crest of a knoll, overlooking Oyster Bay cove—a beautiful spot selected soon after he left the White House. The cemetery was established as a family burial place by an old Long Island family, nearly two centuries ago. The colonel will be the first of the Roosevelts to be buried there.

The quaint church where the services will be held has a seating capacity for only 350 persons. Admission will be by ticket. The church recently celebrated its 200th anniversary. A bronze tablet bearing the names of the vestrymen, includes that of "Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States." Two pages of folioes, hung in cases on the walls, carry the names of young men of the church who entered the service for the war. The names of Col. Roosevelt's sons head the list.

While the ex-president regularly attended services at Christ church when in Oyster Bay, he was at the time of his death, a member of the Congregate Reformed church of St. Nicholas, Fifth Avenue and 18th Street, New York City. At this church he was baptized and later as a young man, joined in the confession of faith.

BOY-ED TALKS OF FUTURE

Former Naval Attache at German Embassy, Washington, Interviewed

Says Russian Gold Behind Hun Revolt—To Engage in Commercial Pursuit

BERLIN, Sunday, Jan. 5.—(By The Associated Press).—“Like most of my comrades in the navy, I am preparing myself for a new profession, in the selection of which my familiarity with American perseverance and confidence is proving an inspiring factor,” said Captain Karl Boy-Ed, former naval attache at the German embassy at Washington, in reply to an inquiry today as to his plans for the future.

He indicated that he was likely to engage in some commercial pursuit. “The revolution in the German navy was part of a general movement,” he said in discussing the political cataclysm that has come to Germany. “The independent socialists and Spartacus adherents prepared for it long ago. Recent revelations by Adolph Joffe, the Bolshevik ambassador at Berlin, showed that Russian gold played a decisive role in the movement. On the other hand, the extraordinary influence exerted upon the resisting qualities of the German people by the propaganda conducted by Lord Northcliffe, does not as yet appear to be fully realized.”

Independent socialist leaders recently declared with almost cynical candor that the outbreak of the revolution was planned for November 4. “By a coincidence the German high seas fleet was mobilized on October 13 for an attack on the Flemish coast, and this put the avalanche into motion prematurely.”

“Revolutionary leaders used this as a pretext to inciting the men to insubordination, telling them they were to be led to the shambles at the last moment. Many timid men who had been loyal, were thus won over.”

Captain Boy-Ed recounted his experiences during the Kiel revolution. He said: “When the first evidence of insubordination appeared, a meeting was held on a ship of the first squadron. Conversations between commander and crew revealed no complaints on the part of the men regarding mismanagement by officers. The men’s complaints were based wholly on political and military views. That insubordination and mutiny in isolated sections of various crews and the revolution that followed gained such rapid momentum can be explained only as a general physical and psychological collapse of the people who, after four years of grueling war with the greater part of the world, had reached the limit of resources.”

“The revolution has heaped upon the fatherland disgrace that is almost intolerable. It brought with it undisciplined conduct by thoughtless elements among the soldiers and civilians. But even these sad occurrences cannot minimize the accomplishments of Germany in the progress of this war. The

“It is out of the question for me to continue my naval career, as it is foreign to my nature to confer with the soldiers’ and workmen’s council as to military matters. I never could have served an hour under the red flag, which I learned to despise during my operations against the Russians. My love for the navy was killed at Wilhelmshaven, Harwich and Scapa Flow.”

He saw himself being contemplated by all his neighbors. “Who are you?” asked Mr. Cusly, watching the stranger keenly, lest he try to run. “William Jennings Bryan,” was the answer. “Perhaps,” said Mr. Cusly, not a bit less sure. The stranger turned down the collar of his coat. It happened that Mr. Cusly had not met Mr. Bryan before.

Then Mr. Crabbe, a neighbor who keeps his machine in Mr. Cusly’s garage, walked in and Mr. Cusly and Mr. Bryan shook hands and the former apologized. Mr. Bryan had been waiting in the garage for his friend Crabbe whom he was visiting.

Mrs. Wilbur Could Hardly Breathe—Stomach Trouble All Gone Now

“A year ago I had such a bad case of stomach trouble that at times it was hard to keep life in me. So much gas gathered that it crowded my lungs and heart and I could hardly get my breath. I had a good doctor all winter, but got no relief. I coughed most all the time and got so thin and weak I could scarcely walk.”

I commenced taking MILK EMULSION on April 11. In three hours all pain had left me and I could eat a little and sleep. Then I commenced to gain in strength and appetite and flesh. I am convinced that MILK EMULSION saved my life.”—Mrs. Isabella I. Wilbur, Webb, Iowa.

On Jan. 7, 1918, Ambassadors Jusserand, Reading and Celler, with Baker, Daniels, Hoover and Garfield, called on McAdoo in his office, and in almost so many words they said: “Mr. McAdoo, it is up to you. If you can’t move the food, fuel and munitions blocked around the Atlantic ports we’re licked. The allies cannot go on two months. Surrender is ahead.”

The allies were hard put for food, fuel and munitions, and their difficulties were bound up in the fact that some 600 ships lay in American ports unable to put to sea, in most cases for want of coal. More than 300 of these vessels were in or near New York harbor. Cold and snowy weather had knocked the railroads out and they were not getting coal to the docks, to say nothing of the food supplies and munitions so urgently needed.

Hoover, his nerves on edge after months of wrecking endeavor, is said to have broken down and cried as the situation was described. The whole group was gloomy.

“Tell me where your stuff is,” said McAdoo, without knowing just how he would tackle the problem. “We’ll move it for you some way.”

Reassuring the allied diplomats as best he might, McAdoo insisted to Daniels, Baker, Hoover and Garfield that they produce at once exact dates showing the location, destination and condition of every consignment needed that they produce at once exact data Mr. McAdoo put his staff on the wires apprising railroad men through the east of the damage the railroad breakdown was inflicting in Europe.

“It is up to you to win the war,” was the message he sent throughout the eastern railroad world. By organizing the eastern roads under one head and whipping up the flagging spirits of the men worn out by the excessive cold and stormy weather, McAdoo and his administration moved the shipments, cleared the congestion and got the ships loaded and to sea. The situation was saved, and with it the war.

SPREAD OF BOLSHEVISM

Secret Agents of Lenine and Trolzky in New York With $50,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Department of justice agents in New York who have been in this city have been assigned to the work of frustrating the activities of five groups of Bolsheviki which have established headquarters here, it was announced last night. The spread of Bolshevism was admitted to have become “alarming.”

Coincidentally, Alfred L. Becker, deputy state attorney general, declared that his department has unearthed evidence that secret agents of Lenine and Trolzky have reached this city with a fund of nearly $500,000 to be used for propaganda purposes.

These agents, it was said, have been circulating in workshops and factories, holding secret meetings, which culminated yesterday in the opening session of three day convention in the Labor Lyceum building.

The prime purpose of this convention is said to be to absorb into the Bolshevik movement in this and other cities members of the Industrial Workers of the World, anarchists and radical socialists. Efforts also are being made, it is reported to gain an affiliation with the Workers’ International Industrial union, the Workers’ Defense union and groups working for the release from prison of Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman, and other “political prisoners.”

Plans of the agitators also are said to include a program for weaning away from the American Federation of Labor radical members of 65 unions throughout the country, who are to be urged to organize “workmen’s councils” under the Lenine-Trolzky plan.

At the offices of the department of justice it was admitted that a card index of 2000 “red” agitators in this city, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Boston and other places, has been compiled and persons whose names appear in this index are being closely watched.

Postoffice authorities are said to be maintaining careful scrutiny of three Russian newspapers, one a Boston publication.

Although most of the Bolsheviki agitators are aliens, and could be deported, government agents admit that they are puzzled as to what course to pursue, as it is believed deportation would serve merely to strengthen their propaganda. More than 500,000 persons in this city, it was said, are active or passive followers of the Bolsheviki movement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—William G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, leaves Washington today, perhaps not to return in his official capacity. Men who have been with him from the day he took up his railroad work recall that he goes exactly a year from the day his real battle began.

On Jan. 7, 1918, Ambassadors Jusserand, Reading and Celler, with Baker, Daniels, Hoover and Garfield, called on McAdoo in his office, and in almost so many words they said: “Mr. McAdoo, it is up to you. If you can’t move the food, fuel and munitions blocked around the Atlantic ports we’re licked. The allies cannot go on two months. Surrender is ahead.”

The allies were hard put for food, fuel and munitions, and their difficulties were bound up in the fact that some 600 ships lay in American ports unable to put to sea, in most cases for want of coal. More than 300 of these vessels were in or near New York harbor. Cold and snowy weather had knocked the railroads out and they were not getting coal to the docks, to say nothing of the food supplies and munitions so urgently needed.

Hoover, his nerves on edge after months of wrecking endeavor, is said to have broken down and cried as the situation was described. The whole group was gloomy.

“Tell me where your stuff is,” said McAdoo, without knowing just how he would tackle the problem. “We’ll move it for you some way.”

Reassuring the allied diplomats as best he might, McAdoo insisted to Daniels, Baker, Hoover and Garfield that they produce at once exact dates showing the location, destination and condition of every consignment needed that they produce at once exact data Mr. McAdoo put his staff on the wires apprising railroad men through the east of the damage the railroad breakdown was inflicting in Europe.

The situation was saved, and with it the war.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—This was William G. McAdoo’s last day in Washington as director-general of railroads. He planned to leave tonight for Santa Barbara, Cal., for a vacation of several months.

Oscar A. Price, assistant to the director-general, will accompany Mr. McAdoo to the Pacific coast as will Mrs. McAdoo and their little daughter, Ellen Wilson McAdoo. The McAdoo home in Washington has been leased.

The impression is growing in Washington that the president will not appoint a new director-general until he returns to the United States next month, watching meanwhile, the reception by congress of the proposal to extend government control for five years.

GETS VICTORIA CROSS

Lt. Gregg in Daring Operation—Killed or Wounded 11 Huns and Captured 25

LONDON, Monday, Jan. 6. (Via Montreal).—Lieut. Milton Fowler Gregg of a Nova Scotia regiment, has been awarded the Victoria Cross for most conspicuous bravery and initiative during operations near Cambrai from Sept. 28 to October 1.

The citation in the Official Gazette says: “On Sept. 28 when the advance of the brigade was held up by fire on both flanks and by thick uncut wire, he crawled forward alone, explored the wire until he found a little gap through which he subsequently led his men and forced an entry into the enemy trench. The enemy counter-attacked in force and through lack of bombs the situation became critical. Gregg, although wounded, returned alone under terrific fire and collected a further supply, then rejoining his party, which was now much reduced. Despite a second wound, he reorganized his men and led them in the most determined way against the enemy trenches, which he finally carried. He personally killed or wounded 11 of the enemy and took 25 prisoners besides capturing 12 machine guns in this trench. Remaining with the company despite his wounds he again, on Sept. 30, led the men in attack until severely wounded.”

PRES. POINCARE TO VISIT U. S. IN JUNE

PARIS, Jan. 7.—President Poincare probably will visit the United States late in June or early in July. This announcement was made by the president himself to the Associated Press last evening.

When it was suggested that the greatest reception ever accorded a foreign ruler was awaiting him, the president said:

“I must return President Wilson’s visit. I am not looking for the honors of a reception. I simply wish to thank America and Americans for what they have done for the cause of liberty and France.”

Come Mother, This Castor Oil Is What You Need—Don’t Cry!

If you, mother, had to swallow the awful dose—Think back to your childhood days—Ugh! Give your children Cascarets instead. Cascarets taste like candy. Every child loves to take a Cascaret. Besides Cascarets act better on the little liver and bowels when the child is bilious, constipated, feverish and sick. Cascarets are delightful—harmless—cheap!

Each 10 cent box of Cascarets, the pleasant candy cathartic, contains directions and dosage for children aged one year old and upwards. When a little one’s tongue turns white, breath feverish, stomach sour, there is something better to “work” the nasty bile, souring food and constipation out of the child’s system. Give Cascarets, then never worry.

CHARLES

Our American Workmen

A country worth fighting for is worth working for! The man who may be driving rivets in a ship or a tank is backing up the boys at the front. It is not on the battlefields alone that this war is being fought. It is waged behind the lines, in the factory, in the workshop, on the farm and in the home as truly as in the trenches. The pale-cheeked woman at home as well as the workman in the shop feels that lack of “snap” and energy which red blood should bring. Perhaps he or she has had an attack of the influenza, in consequence the blood lacks tone. Perhaps the red blood corpuscles are lacking. Build up the blood with an iron-ionic tablet, called “Ironic,” first discovered and made by Dr. Pierce. After taking this tonic tablet you have good red blood and an active liver, and you can face the enemy successfully—whether it is the germs of grip, a common cold or spring fever. America needs its strong men, and American men need to be strong. Then there is that blood-maker and herbal tonic which has borne the recommendations of many thousands of people during the past fifty years. It is called Doctor Pierce’s Golden Medical Discovery, and can be had in tablet form at almost all drug stores at 60 cents a vial. It has the right combination of herbal extracts to bring “pep,” vim, vitality and vigor to you. When you have taken Dr. Pierce’s Golden Medical Discovery Tablets you will feel the red blood coursing through veins and arteries, and you will be surprised to find how easy it is to tackle every “job,” every undertaking calling for responsibility or efficiency. The man who takes this tonic tablet has iron nerves for hardships, and an interest in “the drive” grips him. Be sure and ask for Dr. Pierce’s

The flood of telegraphic messages of condolence from all parts of the world, continued today and extra telegraphers were called here from New York to handle the rush.

LONDON PAPERS PAY
TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

LONDON, Jan. 7.—This morning's London newspapers print full accounts of Theodore Roosevelt's death with long sketches and editorial comment. "With Roosevelt there disappears from the world a great American and a great friend of Britain," says the Daily Mail. "He was ever a fighter, continuously challenging criticism, as must a man whose primal quality is pure energy rather than pure reason. We think of him as a man who also made a great place in the world by dint of his great and very American qualities."

The Daily Telegraph says: "In Roosevelt the world loses one of its elemental figures, one of those who not more than twice or thrice in a generation strike the imagination of mankind as personifying to a supreme degree some human force at work in the history of the times. No man did so much to awaken the spirit of an effective world power in the American people and his famous phrase for the right diplomacy for national greatness in a world of competing ambitions 'speak softly and carry a big stick' only summed up the wisdom of generations in the old world which still thinks of war as a thing in certain cases inevitable."

OYSTER BAY MOURNS
NEIGHBOR ROOSEVELT

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Oyster Bay today mourned Theodore Roosevelt, the neighbor.

Reminiscences of Roosevelt the boy, Roosevelt the youth, Roosevelt the man, Roosevelt the husband and father in a family intimately associated with two generations of the life of this quiet Long Island village, were told with unconscious simplicity by the veteran citizens of the town to the strangers who have been coming to Oyster Bay since yesterday in the hope of obtaining cards of admittance to the funeral services tomorrow at Christ church.

When the delegation of United States senators and representatives arrive here tomorrow and men of national and international fame assemble to pay their final tribute to the great American in the Episcopal edifice, a few miles from the Roosevelt home on Sagamore Hill, these distinguished visitors will find Oyster Bay people regretting, not the passing of a world known figure, but of merely a neighbor, known to all here and beloved by all here for his pure democracy as a fellow voter and a fellow worshipper. Perhaps no more sincere tribute to Theodore Roosevelt was paid anywhere in the nation today than this one accorded him by Oyster Bay neighbors, who recalling incidents of that phase of the colonel's life which could not be described as strenuous, relate in unadorned language their own story of the former president as they knew and loved him.

The honors which the rulers of nations bestowed upon Col. Roosevelt in the form of cablegrams meant little to Oyster Bay residents in comparison with their own messages of sympathy sent to Mrs. Roosevelt sitting bravely in her hilltop home surrounded by those of the Roosevelt children who have been able to come to her side at this time. To these residents, the colonel was never a foremost figure in American history and international events—even when he was president and his sons were growing boys. Roosevelt was looked upon here rather as a townsman than as a noted statesman.

Tales without number were recounted today of the town life of the former president. There was the old German-American tradesman whose store stood as it stands today, in the heart of the village, when "Teddy" as a boy was accustomed to pass the little structure each day. This elderly citizen of enemy birth, but possessing an Americanism as staunch, perhaps as that of the colonel himself, entered the Oyster Bay inn yesterday when he learned of the death of the colonel, to demand confirmation of news which had shocked the world. Informed that what he had heard was true, he collapsed in a chair and gave way to unrestrained emotion.

"If he's gone—if he's really gone—I'm through," the old friend of Theodore Roosevelt said. "There is nothing more for me to live for if Teddy is gone. Teddy used to sit his dog on me when he was a boy."

The flood of reminiscences which swept Oyster Bay brought to public notice a circumstance with which the townspeople have long been familiar, but regarding which the outside world perhaps has never known. It is a circumstance which may be said to be eloquently characteristic of the gentle home life of the Roosevelt family. It is said that it was not until about four months ago that the Sagamore Hill house was fitted with electric lights.

Noted visitors from many lands, private men of renown and international missions sent by foreign governments have come to the Sagamore Hill house to find the colonel writing or dictating or reading by the light of oil lamps. Throughout his great home, oil burning lights only were to be found until a few months ago. It was neighborly reminiscence today which revealed why at last precedent was shattered at the Roosevelt homestead and oil surrendered its place to electricity. "You know," the colonel was quoted by a neighbor as saying, half apologetically, "we just had to put in electric light. The servants demanded it."

BOY SCOUTS TRIBUTE TO COL. ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—In order to give permanent expression to "all Col. Roosevelt stood for, to the boys of the nation," 18,000 troops of the Boy Scouts of America, comprising 440,000 members, today were instructed to plant one or more trees with suitable inscription and ceremony in memory of the former president, the national council of the organization said in a telegram of condolence sent to Mrs. Roosevelt. Col. Roosevelt, the telegram continued, had aided materially in the development of the

Scouts and each of its members regarded "him as their hero."

"In losing Col. Roosevelt, our boys and indeed the whole world have sustained a great loss," said the message. "But a spirit like his does not die and the national council of Boy Scouts of America, will endeavor in every way within its power to see that his memory is kept alive and his splendid qualities emphasized to serve to stimulate the boyhood of our country and the world to better citizenship."

DEATH OF ROOSEVELT A TERRIBLE LOSS, SAYS CARDINAL GIBBONS

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons said last night: "It was a terrible shock to me to learn of the death of former President Roosevelt. I had been intimately acquainted with him from the time he was elevated to the high office of president of the United States and we were very dear and good friends. It is a terrible loss to me and to the whole country."

YANKS TRADE SOAP TO HUNS FOR CHICKENS

COBLENZ, Dec. 31.—(Correspondent of the Associated Press) Soap was in such demand among the Germans that American Infantrymen in their march from Luxembourg to the Rhine used small cakes of it as Indian money in trading with the civilians of the various German villages. In one instance an Infantryman produced a chicken for six pieces of ordinary soap about the size of individual cakes supplied guests by hotels in the United States.

Eggs are very scarce in Germany at this season, but if there were any in the villages through which the Americans passed, they could get them by offering a cake of soap for each egg.

dependent of late leads to the suicide theory.

Da Carteret had a wife and children, but was living alone. His wife left him three months ago and did not return to the home, and this, it is believed, led to despondency, for during the past few weeks he had been brooding over the fact that he was living alone. Last Friday he had dinner at the home of his brother, Arthur, who lives a short distance from Walter's place, and at that time he showed signs of drink. Nothing of him was seen since, until yesterday when his brother, while on his way to work with his son entered Walter's home to see if he was there, and it was at that time that the gruesome discovery was made.

When Arthur De Carteret entered the bedroom of his brother he found the latter lying in a pool of blood and his body was frozen stiff. Neighbors were notified and Medical Examiner T. B. Smith was called. The latter upon an examination of the premises found that there had been no struggle and inasmuch as there were no footprints on the outside, he came to the conclusion that Walter did not leave his home since last Friday night, the time of the last snow storm. Dr. Smith stated today that in his opinion De Carteret died Friday night, and to all indications the case was one of suicide, but he was not ready to state definitely the cause of death. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker George W. Healey. Deceased leaves his wife, Helen, and three daughters, Bessie, Nellie and Annie, all of New Bedford.

The local officer got his rank at Cambridge and hopes to return to Harvard to resume his studies in a short time.

William J. Hunt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hunt of 3 Fourth st., arrived in New York Sunday on the Santa Teresa, after being away from home for two years. He is expected home within a few days. Hunt is a former member of the National Guard, having been attached to Co. C of the old Sixth regiment. He was working in Cleveland just before this country entered the war and he enlisted in the navy two days before the formal declaration. An older brother, Charles Hunt, is also in the navy and expects to be discharged in the near future.

Lieut. Charles Barton, who has been serving in France with Co. A of the Sixth Infantry and who was wounded by shrapnel in the Argonne forest, has returned to Lowell for a brief leave before reporting at Camp Devens to await his discharge. Lieut. Barton was formerly a member of Co. G of the old Sixth regiment and was promoted in basketball activities. He eventually won his way up to the rank of sergeant and went overseas with his unit in the summer of 1917. He was transferred to the 104th regiment and later to the Sixth Infantry of the Fifth division. He went over the top nine times and saw a great amount of strenuous fighting. Shortly after his arrival in France he attended an officers' training school and won his commission.

MOLLOY-SYMONS
Mr. Dominic Molloy and Miss Elizabeth Seymour were married January 1 at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. William Mahan, O.M.I. The bride wore a white crepe de chine and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Seymour, who wore pink crepe de chine and carried pink roses. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1220 Gorham street. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 37 Apple street.

MORE INFLUENZA REPORTED
Thirteen new cases of influenza had been reported at the office of the board of health up to noon today. This makes a total of 38 since the beginning of the week. There have been seven deaths caused by influenza since January 1.

A Portland woman burning old papers in the stove, was about to toss an old diary when it occurred to her to look in the little cover pocket, and she found there a $5 bill which had been put away for safe keeping in 1875. Somebody figures that if the money had been put at interest instead, the $5 would have increased to $26.

employment situation is carefully adjusted. The need was mentioned not only of whole-hearted co-operation of employers, laborers and employment bureau; but also of strong and intelligent interest in people that may suffer in the readjustment—that interest that will not allow real need to be neglected; but has respect for the individual and encourages him to assume his own responsibilities just as soon as possible.

Report was made of the State Conference of Charities, which this year changed its name to the Massachusetts Conference of Social Work. We all recognize that the welfare of the state depends on the welfare of the child; but as one speaker said, child welfare must be home welfare; it limited to health, it may possibly make healthy animals but not necessarily sane citizens; for the true success, it requires not merely individual action but co-operation of every man and woman of the state. The bureau of child welfare, Washington, stands ready to advise and assist the different communities, but not to dictate.

A plea was made for supervision of recreation, as joy of life needs guidance as much as the more serious side. Deverly had had a survey of its playground situation; has accepted the recommendations; and now is planning for what is considered an ideal recreational system. A field worker of the playground association will soon be available for communities that want a similar survey.

Mention was made of the need of homes for children held for court trial; of a "better recognition of first steps in delinquency," and of investigation before allowing adoption of children. One speaker's remark concerning the adoption of feeble-minded children or, worse still, of normal children into feeble-minded families, serves to emphasize the importance of such investigation. Even when the latter discloses no danger, it is safer to try a child in a home for a year before making the adoption final. A recognized expert, in speaking of placing children, both free and at hard, said that it is necessary to use the confidential exchange in foster-home investigations. "Knowledge is power and economy." This sentence of his in connection with child-placing may well apply to other forms of social service where also use of the confidential exchange is important.

The danger that comes where mothers leave home was emphasized by one speaker who named as results: criminal assault, improper feeding, poor day nurseries, unsupervised boarding homes, neglect.

In connection with the problem of the feeble-minded, the importance of clinics for mental troubles was emphasized and of special classes in the schools, with suitable after-care. In this connection, one speaker drew the line between a true teacher and a mere keeper of children. In preventive work also the opportunity of teachers was mentioned and co-operation of social workers with the educational system encouraged.

In the session concerning women in industries, one speaker approved of less emphasis on hospital work in factories and more on building up of health ideals; and spoke of the possibility of having business concerns employ industrial hygienists. That idea of reaching the well before they become sick; of benefiting the group including the individual was echoed, and re-echoed in the conference. As one worker suggested, if you care for

REPORT ON RAILROADS

Inadequate Terminals Principal Limitation on Traffic Capacities, Says Gray

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Inadequate terminals constitute the principal limitation on railroad traffic capacities, says Carl R. Gray, director of the railroad administration of operations, in his report for 1918 made public today by Director General Mead. This is one of the great lessons of the past year.

"Given average weather conditions," he says, "and with the exception of the Pittsburgh gateway, there is no question of the ability of railroads to transport to destination all of the freight offered, either domestic or for overseas, provided there are facilities for prompt disposition and unloading at destination. He recommends building of a new east and west trunk line avoiding the Pittsburgh industrial district.

Much of the credit for heavier loading of freight cars effected during government management, was due, Mr. Gray asserts, to the co-operation of shippers in loading cars and adopting different plans of packing.

Continued

Pope had done his best to make him release a soldier at a dance held at Associate hall New Year's eve, when the officer had taken him in charge for being disorderly. Pope told the court that he now realized that he had made a mistake, and that it would never occur again. He was ordered to pay a fine of $20, and the court requested the sergeant to bring him to the station any civilian who again interfered with him in the discharge of his duties, even if it meant the releasing of his prisoner, as the latter, His Honor stated, could be found later by the military police, and the court would then be able to take steps to put a stop to this civilian interference.

Violated City Ordinance

Russell Gouley was charged with using profane language and also with a violation of the city ordinance, Superintendent Welch told the court that last Wednesday morning he noticed the young man driving down Central street in a milk truck, with the reins trailing loose. Defendant turned into Union street, the chief said, but drove on the left hand side of the street and by so doing, nearly ran over a man who was crossing the street at that point. In fact, the horse brushed against the man in passing. The young man told the pedestrian to "get the hell out of the way," the superintendent said.

Gouley said that he was driving on the wrong side of the street in order to avoid injuring some school children who were coming down the hill at that time. "Also that it was customary to drive with slack reins. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5 on each complaint.

Mugger in Pool Room

Serious Kerkens was charged with unlawfully admitting minors to his pool room. The officers testified that they found two boys under 16 in defendant's place, and that when spoken to in regard to the matter he had stated that he "had eight kids to support and that they were injuring his business by bothering him" and had also ordered them to get out and leave him alone.

It being the first offense, the court administered a warning to the defendant about allowing minors without properly signed cards from their parents to frequent his pool room, and on a finding of guilty the case was placed on file.

Other Offenders

Peter Kanaopoulos pleaded guilty to stealing $120 from the Legation, a fraternal organization in this city, and the case was continued a month to see if he would make restitution to the club officials.

Frank G. Corcoran was charged with breaking and entering the pool room conducted by Mr. Hennessy on Central street, and stealing $59 cigars. The case was continued Jan. 14, bail being set at $200.

John Neville and Ida Love pleaded guilty to a statutory offense. Both stated that they were married, but that neither had lived with their marital partners for some months. They were fined $25 each.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. If desired, thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract (anion) for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded. TALKS ON PEACE TREATY

British Naval Writer Says Britain Must Have Supreme Fleets

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Great Britain must get back to the fundamental principle of the defense of an island state which is the center of a maritime empire, says Archibald Hurd, the naval writer, in an article in the Daily Telegraph, concerning the peace treaty.

"A supreme fleet as far as the European waters are concerned, prepared to co-operate with the American fleet in insuring to humanity real freedom of the seas.

"Complementary to the royal navy must be a supreme British merchant navy and it must be one of the first tasks or reconstruction to establish this essential element of our seapower. "Seapower having been shown to provide adequate safeguards against invasion and starvation and to constitute our first line of defense, the military problem has been simplified, for we pursue neither by sea nor by land, an aggressive policy.

"Associated with the two fleets an expeditionary force will be necessary after peace has been signed and provision must also be made for re-establishing garrisons overseas on a voluntary system.

"In order that the expeditionary force may be free to fulfill its overseas task and that the navy may not be tied to these shores, the restoration of some sort of a territorial force will be desirable.

"The air ministry, Mr. Hurd concludes, will become a civil body, responsible for aerial transport, the admiralty and the war office meeting the needs of the navy and army.

SOON TO FREE STRANDED U. S. TRANSPORT

WILSON FEELS AT HOME

Expresses Gratitude in Accepting Freedom of City of Turin, Italy

TURIN, Monday, Jan. 6.—In accepting the freedom of the city of Turin at a meeting in the municipal building today, President Wilson said:

"Mr. Mayor: Both on the streets of this interesting city and here, you have made me feel at home. I feel almost as if it were the greeting of a people of whom I was indeed a fellow citizen. I am very much honored that this great city, playing so important a role in the life and in the industrial endeavor of Italy, should have conferred this high distinction upon me, and I take the liberty of interrupting your action, sir, not merely as a personal compliment to myself to whom you ascribe virtues and powers which I feel I do not possess, but as a tribute to the people whom I represent.

"The people of the United States were reluctant to take part in the war, not because they doubted the justice of the cause, but because it was the tradition of the American people to play no part in the politics of other continents, but as the struggle grew from stage to stage, they were more and more moved by the conviction that it was a European struggle, that it was a struggle for the freedom of the world and the liberation of humanity, and with that conviction it was impossible that they should withhold their hands.

"Their hearts have been with you from the start and then when the time of their conviction came they threw every resource of men and money and enthusiasm into the struggle. It has been a happy circumstance that America should thus be associated

NEW TELEPHONE RATES

EFFECTIVE JAN. 21

The Lowell exchange of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. is issuing a statement to subscribers setting forth the new basis and kinds of toll rates which become effective January 21. Calls are divided into five classes, all based on the first, known as the "station to station" rate.

When a person makes a toll call without specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person, and the connection is established and conversation held, the "station to station" rate applies. This rate is determined by the air line distance between toll points and is computed on the basis of 5 cents for each 6 miles, up to 24 miles and five cents for each eight miles beyond that distance.

When a person makes a toll call specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, the "person to person" rate applies. The minimum charge is 20 cents. No person to person call is accepted where the station to station rate is less than 15 cents.

When a "person to person" call is made and the particular person desired is not in or will not talk, or when an exact telephone address of the particular person desired has not been given and he or she cannot be reached, a "report charge" applies. Such a charge also applies if the calling party is absent when the connection is completed within one hour, or if he or she refuses to talk. In any case where a "report charge" applies, the minimum charge is 10 cents, and the maximum charge is 25 cents.

When the calling party in placing his or her call appoints a definite specified time at which he will talk on a "person to person" basis and the conversation is held at the specified time, the "appointment rate" applies. The "appointment rate" is usually about one-half greater than the "station to station" rate and the maximum charge is 25 cents.

No appointment call is accepted where the "station to station" rate is less than 15 cents. Messenger calls are on the same general basis as the appointment rate.

THEY READ THE SUN ADS. ALL RIGHT

There may have been a time when business men had to be persuaded by argument that newspaper readers really read the ads in a paper. Happily that time is now very nearly gone. The ads in The Sun are read as carefully as the news columns and these ads have a money value to every reader who follows them carefully.

Occasionally the advertising department of a paper encounters an old-fashioned type of merchant who has a hard time understanding that the better one advertises the more goods he will sell. Yet this is the universal experience.

Every Lowell business man whose business shows the results of skilled management will testify that a considerable part of his success is due to the fact that he advertised wisely and persistently. Such advertising in The Sun always brings rich results. If you want to have a live salesman to reach out and draw in business, it means using space in

COLONEL ROOSEVELT

The death of Col. Roosevelt coming so unexpectedly will cause genuine sorrow among his admirers in this country and they are counted by millions. Even those who differed with the colonel in politics admired him for his aggressiveness, his blunt statement of his views and his red hot Americanism. As governor of New York and as president he was always the same bold, fearless figure, always ready for a "scrap" and willing to see his opponents "beaten to a frazzle."

In politics he was so voluble that it was sometimes difficult to gather from his varied utterances just how he stood on any question except preparation for war and the adoption of a vigorous foreign policy. He favored a declaration of war before it came, although had he been president, he might have had different views on the matter. When faced by stern opposition even in the republican party that had heaped honors upon him, he did not hesitate to adopt the policy of rule or ruin as was shown when he bolted the convention in 1912 and placed himself at the head of the progressive party which might more properly have been named the "Roosevelt party."

But in his passing all the asperities of politics will be forgotten and he will be known in the history of his country as a sterling patriot and a true American. Fifty or a hundred years hence his fame will probably rest chiefly on his having given the country the Panama canal although it was not completed until long after his incumbency as president. There was some question as to the method by which he secured the strip of land for the canal; but in the years to come, such minor considerations as that will be lost sight of and the fact that he was instrumental in bringing about the construction of the canal will redound to his lasting fame.

Roosevelt was anxious to have a prominent part in the world war and soon after the United States entered the conflict, he offered his services to President Wilson. There was no doubt that he would prove an impetuous leader, but his lack of military training, simply announced that none but men of scientific military training could take part in this war, and there the matter dropped so far as the president was concerned.

Nobody ever doubted that Roosevelt would give the best that was in him; but he could not safely be given a prominent command and a man of his spirit would not be satisfied with any inferior position. That and that alone explained the fact that he was not called to the service.

In his passing, the nation loses one of the most noted public men of the generation, one that put new spirit and stamina into the rising generation of Americans, and one whose devotion to the strenuous life and his well known fearlessness and persistence in following his ideals, made him the idol of a very large number of his countrymen. The nation will mourn the loss of her distinguished citizen, and history will pay due honor to his memory as one of the great presidents of the United States.

WILSON CONFIDENT

Reading the accounts of President Wilson's tour through Italy, it is very difficult to doubt that his mission will result in success even beyond his expectations. His speeches in Italy show a more positive tone in favor of the league of nations than did those he made in France and England. He has evidently gained encouragement as he went along; and after consulting with the statesmen of France and England he could speak with more assurance of success on reaching Italy. Accordingly the speech he made before the Italian senate and chamber of deputies was probably the best he made since crossing the Atlantic. For simplicity and grace of expression, it will compare with any he ever made. In this speech, he asserted that something more reliable must be substituted for the balance of power and as to what that something should be, he left no doubt in the minds of his hearers. His concluding statement is a fair expression of the situation as it now appears so far as can be judged from the cable dispatches. In closing he said:

"What men once considered theoretical and idealistic turns out to be practical and necessary. We stand at the opening of a new age in which a new statesmanship will, I am confident, lift mankind to new levels of endeavor and achievement."

Since his arrival in Europe, President Wilson has certainly strengthened the idea for a league of nations, and already the peoples of the various countries he has visited as well as of many he has not visited, are practically unanimous in favor of a league that will uphold international justice, prevent war and bring the great nations to abandon the rule that might makes right and that has caused the world powers in the past to sleep in their armor, so to speak.

He demanded freedom for the Balkans which to the European mind seems to be as practical as peace among a bag of cats. But as the president pointed out what seemed theoretical or even impossible before is now practical and necessary. The league of nations will provide the means of maintaining peace by letting all understand that under the new order warfare is barred and that the disturber of world peace will be met with the condemnation of the public opinion of the world if not by actual force.

Those who still argue against the league of peace are so wedded to the statu quo ante that they will never believe the scheme practical or possible until they have seen it in successful operation for about twenty years.

CITY DEPARTMENTS

The reassignment of departments at city hall may result in some improvement. Commissioner Morse will have to undertake the important work of conducting the water and fire departments. He is an expert in street work and it remains to be seen whether he will prove equally efficient in directing the two departments to which he has been assigned.

It is noticed about the city that the water department is getting into a run-down condition that will require radical measures of restoration. The filter plant is clogged up and although a number of men have been working upon it for some time, it appears that there is still a great deal of expensive work ahead. There is also much need for the renewal of pipe in certain parts of the city, as the well water is severe on the mains, and added to the effect of the rusty water is that of electrolysis, which is seldom made known except in the bursting of pipes. This is the result of grounding of electric wires on the city water pipes.

It would be well to make a complete survey of the water department in order to ascertain its actual condition. The two new commissioners, Messrs. Murphy and Marchand, will undoubtedly give a reasonably good administration of their respective departments, although Mr. Marchand takes charge of a badly tangled mess in the new high school matter. When that and the new contagious hospital shall have been straightened out, we predict that the people of Lowell will realize to their regret, the ruinous effect of official mismanagement.

There is some talk now of building a public hall which is needed, of course; and if that be undertaken, there might be a chance of using the steel purchased for the new high school, as there seems but slight prospect of ever using it for the purpose originally intended.

Street work will be new to Commissioner Murphy, but as an experienced legislator and a man of resource, he is likely to see that the work of the department is done well and that all extravagance will be avoided.

THE WHEAT SUBSIDY

Some republican papers are criticizing the government's position in regard to the wheat situation under the law by which the government has agreed to pay $2.26 per bushel at Chicago for the next two wheat crops. It is alleged that the experiment will cost the government about $200,000,000 if not more. That may be true, but the benefit to the country in the increased wheat supply will be much greater. It will induce the farmers to increase, so far as they can, the area under wheat, and it will show just what they can do in this line when a little extra inducement is offered.

When this action was taken, the government looked forward to a continuance of the war for another year or two and in view of the demand for wheat in every country in Europe, the government felt justified in taking such action. Although there may be criticism, now that the war is ended, still we venture to predict that the government will find a good market for all the surplus wheat it can offer to the nations of Europe. If the farmers increase the area under wheat next year to a considerable extent in order to secure the profit offered by the government, they will not be likely thereafter to go back to the more limited crops of former years. Even if this undertaking does cost the government $200,000,000, it will be money well spent in bringing about a permanent increase in the great food staple of the country and of the world. To increase the wheat product of the nation is much more important than increasing the cotton crop or even the products of our various industries.

SANE LIVING

Bill Killefer, the great catcher de luxe of the National league, as he was called, was drafted to war last summer, and went willingly to serve his country.

Last week he returned, honorably discharged a sergeant, weather-beaten but healthy and happy.

"I'll admit that the army has done wonders for me," Bill said. "I didn't feel good at any time last year. I had more little troubles and ailments than I ever had in a season before. But after I got to the army camp and began going to bed early and arising early and eating regularly and doing the outdoor work, all those ailments disappeared."

Now, of course, it is rather expensive to have a war just to prove to a lot of ailing folk that what they need is a dose of safe and sane living to make them well. There ought to be a cheaper way of impressing us with that fact. It has been preached to us day in and day out, as we went along accumulating "little troubles and ailments," paying doctor bills and getting less work and happiness out of our lives. Bill Killefer was that way. Now he knows better. He knows what makes "little troubles and ailments," also, what unmakes them.

Is it possible that it will be necessary that we place a health department in command, with powers to enforce the safe and sane life, the right of rest, the regular meals, and the outdoor exercise? That wouldn't be at all popular with the undertaker, the casket maker or the cemetery laborer.

COMPENSATION LAW

Missouri is now the only great industrial state of the union without a workmen's compensation law. Organized labor is at present urging the passage of such a law in that state, with some prospect of success. There is considerable discussion as to what form the measure will take. Representatives of labor are fighting to have it framed on the "Ohio plan," which provides an exclusive state insurance fund for compensation benefits based on two-thirds of the wages paid. It is alleged that this plan resulted in the saving of $5,000,000 to the industries of Ohio last year, by preventing the costly competition of private insurance companies in workmen's insurance. Besides, it is claimed that liberal allowances were provided for injured workers and their families. Much is said in favor of this state fund idea, although some states are decidedly opposed to assuming such responsibility, and undoubtedly for good reasons.

The workmen's compensation law, however, is a vast improvement on the old method of seeking damages through the courts, and in which the lawyers were, in most cases, the chief beneficiaries. The compensation law in this state is not perfect and will undoubtedly be improved from year to year; but neither the employers nor organized labor would think of returning to the old system.

There must be a certain amount of luck connected with the office of being governor of a New England state. We have in mind that recently at about the same time, Gov. McCall of Massachusetts, Gov. Keyes of New Hampshire and Gov. Milliken of Maine were all suffering from influenza. But all seem to have recovered with no bad after effects. By the way, about this influenza business, we should not become panic stricken about it. At the height of the epidemic in Lowell the death rate was only about 6 or 7 to the hundred, of persons taken down with influenza. At the present time we are told that the death rate will not average more than 2 per hundred.

We heard of one contemporary which persuaded itself to believe that the invasion of Massachusetts by an unusually large number of Maine newspapermen in search of jobs, was due to the almost complete withdrawal of liquor from Maine. Having in mind that the modern newspaper does not tolerate drinking men, we disagree with the liquor theory and we choose rather to believe that these capable men from Maine are anxious to leave that state because wages for newspapermen have been for years notoriously small and inadequate to meet the constantly increasing cost of maintaining one's self and family in a respectable way.

That Petrograd town council snore has cut for itself considerable of a job in its announced determination to summarily provide husbands for all unmarried females within its bailiwick between the ages of 15 and 45. 'Tis a job that Solomon in his keenest days would probably have shrunk from. Every now and then socialism puts itself in a position to have its acts compared with similar acts some monarch may have tried. Some monarchs for instance, have tried to put Cupid out of business, and to arrange the details of matches between their subjects. And nearly always they have failed.

We have been repeatedly advised to sift ashes to accomplish two objects, the commendable object of conserving coal and to get exercise. We do not feel like hoisting the ash sifting stunt as a fine way of obtaining exercise. The methods of enjoying exercise are by no means restricted or undiversified in character. Hardly any method carries with it the chance to get so many bad particles in one's lungs and to get one's self so dirty as becoming a disciple of Cinderella.

We all expect that if the Bolshevik delegate to the peace conference is finally admitted to be in good standing and permitted to have his credentials vied, he will then be cautiously escorted to the dynamite room and an arrangement made so that by phone, he can know all that is going on at the peace table. It sounds like a cumbersome arrangement but in view of the record for throwing bombs, now held by the Bolsheviks, it is not a time when any chance can be taken.

It is announced that the woman suffragists have arranged to raise a fund of $50,000 with which to secure the one vote necessary to carry the amendment in the United States senate. Is it to be assumed, that the vote can be secured by money, as this announcement would seem to imply? The country will watch for any sudden conversion of a senator to the suffragist side that might result from arguments of this kind.

First Water Wagon
The water wagon started on its journey through this country longer ago than most people realize. I offer you a proof of this assertion which was 250 years old last April. It is in the form of a petition to a royal governor signed by 12 men who were determined that the brewers' big horses should not run over them. "Whereas, we, the inhabitants of ye new Seated Towne near ye falls of Delaware (called Crookcorn), finding ourselves aggrieved by ye Indians when drunk, informeth, that wee be and have been in great danger of our lives, of our houses burning, of our goods stealing and of our Wives and Children affrighting. Inasmuch that wee are afeared to go about our lawfull affairs, least when we come home we finde you and our concerns dammed.

"These things considered, wee do humbly & jointly desire that the selling of brandy and strong liquors to ye Indians may be wholly suppressed, when it done wee hope wee shall live peaceably."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Western Roping Matches

During a meeting of the stock growers on the reservation opposite Miles City, Mont., there were some roping matches of more than ordinary interest. Of all cowboy sports, roping contests are the most exciting, and call forth more skill and agility than the man who has never visited the far west can appreciate, unless he comes to know it through reading wild west stories. When a contest of this kind is arranged, a piece of ground is selected, care being taken that it is level and free from any dog holes, rocks or brush that might bring down a horse while running at full speed, and injure both it and its rider. A bunch of 30 or 40 lively young steers full of spirit, are then driven up by three cowboys, two of whom hold the bunch, while the third "cuts out" the animals one by one for the contest. Timekeepers are appointed, and the first competitor comes forward on his pony. He takes his stand 10 or 50 yards from the bunch and a fine picture he generally makes, with his big white hat, his spurs and his lasso. Then a steer is cut out from the bunch and started on the run. At a given signal the cutter pulls up his bronco in the proverbial four feet of space and the competitor dashes after the steer. A sharp race follows, and the second cowboy gets near enough he swings the rope above his head, takes careful aim and circles it around the steer's horns. In an instant the bronco stops suddenly, bringing the steer to a halt. Then the horse runs around the steer, which is promptly thrown. The rider fastens the rope to the horn of the saddle and dismounts, leaving the horse to hold down the steer, which it invariably does by sitting down on its haunches and bracing itself with its forelegs. The cowboy proceeds to tie the steer's hind legs, and the moment he has it done his task is completed and the time is taken. Each competitor follows in turn, and the one making the quickest time is the winner.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Telephone Call

The world slips into a drab attire.
What was it somebody said?
"Why?"
And told me you were dead.
You, whom I knew from the olden day.
Of our busy horrid dawn.
You have slipped aside from the common way.
And you—old friend—are gone.
Are gone, gone, gone! We shall not meet.
Or answer the halting quest?
I shall not find you in room nor street.
Among all the million rest?
How can it be that my blood runs red?
And my world, in drab, whirrs on?
What does it mean when they dub you "Dead"?
Where is the place called "Gone"?
What was that message that I meant to send
And the visit I did not pay?
Was it the good old friend,
When tomorrow turns yesterday?
Now, as I sit with my "buds" and "yets,"
And wonder and ponder on,
God! how I hope that you share regrets
And are not just gone—just gone!

Mine-Laying in the North Sea

We had a most interesting conversation with Chief Petty William H. Carey, of this city, the other afternoon. Chief Carey is the well known former president of the Matthew Taylor Institute and has been in the naval service for more than a year. The major portion of his duty has been in the North Sea between Scotland and Ireland where he has assisted in laying mines, one of the most important and least known projects which the United States engaged in during the war. Chief Carey's work was fitted out for this work and last January the first of them were sent to establish bases overseas. A thousand men were assigned to each base and the period from January to May was consumed, mostly in the construction of these bases. While the bases were being established in this country were filling mines with TNT and a factory right here in New England was engaged in another phase of the work. Each process was carried out independently and in some instances the people who were working on the project didn't know what relation their work bore to the general whole. By the last of May the assembly bases were filled with material and apparatus, all of which had been carried overseas by the United States navy. In the last six months 650,000 lbs. of dynamite were expended in the project. The most powerful mine ever built and had the most effective firing mechanism. This mechanism is still a secret as far as general knowledge of it is concerned.

Chief Carey said that much credit is due to Lieut. C. H. Wright, an ordnance officer in charge of the assembly work at one of the bases. Lieut. Wright made new adjustments on the mines which necessitated their re-inspection and it was on this work that the Lowell man was engaged. Much credit for the success of the project is due to the splendid training given at Annapolis as displayed by Lieut. Wright and other officers. Mines were being laid for a period of four months. The number has not yet been divulged.

More mines were laid by the United States navy in that period than by all the other allied nations in the entire war. The war up to the time that the Americans began the work. Another big project was under way under the auspices of the United States government which was called off by the signing of the armistice Nov. 11. Within two months after the armistice had laid their mines more German submarines were destroyed in the North Sea than had been destroyed by all the allied forces during the first six months of America's participation in the conflict. The mine was of such construction that it was possible to have it at any depth in the water in connection with the work was that, not one accident occurred in connection with the laying or assembling of the mines. Chief Carey left Lowell Saturday evening to report for duty at Norfolk, Va.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

I attended "Inauguration" yesterday. The term "Inauguration" is not used here in perhaps its usual sense. The mayor was not inducted into office but with the induction into office of Alderman Marchand and Alderman Murphy, the program of exercises carried with it the custom and always it is a short address in some place reflecting on what has been accomplished in the year gone by and the tasks confronting the new commission in the year just beginning. The ceremonies were exceedingly simple but withal, businesslike. There was no controversy or arguments as to whom should preside over the various departments. Rumor hath it that the five commissioners meet quietly Sunday, probably after church, and satisfactorily settled on what the department assignments for 1919 should be. At any rate the business was done expeditiously and smoothly and there was nothing to it but recording the votes.

As you see five supposedly capable men and the city clerk sitting at a long table and preparing to carry on the affairs of the city, theoretically it looks to be a splendid arrangement and an efficient one. You think of it as being a centralization of authority and responsibility and you may compare it to the executive committee of the trustees of a corporation sitting down at a similar table to carry on the business of the corporation. Unfortunately, in the case of some past administration boards, their sitting at the table has been as far as the parallel could be carried.

It cannot be denied that some boards quickly laid aside their dignity and the members got down to the business of looking out each for his individual interests, which means that each commissioner was scrambling to get all the money he could appropriate for his department and dividing the time between that task and keeping his political fences in order. The whole business when conducted that way has the effect of giving this city and any city a "Bath House John," kind of a city government.

Many people will regret that Commissioner Morse relinquishes supervision of the streets. He is regarded as a capable official whose capability comes from a natural aptitude for

There was but one basket of flowers to be sent, a fine basket the Broadway Social club sent as a compliment to Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy. He is a member of that club. The person connected with the florist establishment by which the flowers were sent gave an example of bad spelling. The word "social" was spelled "s-o-c-i-e-l". I ought to mention that I did not see any "At Rest" or "Gates Ajar" floral pieces displayed in memory of any candidates who failed to overcome the barrier necessary to win a commission. The only lady present in the council chamber to witness the exercises was the wife of Mayor Thompson sitting in an inconspicuous position. I'll say this for the five commissioners in whose hands we have now entrusted our municipal destinies: Each of the five is a good looking man and each bears the outward stamp of being capable and of being a gentleman.

RAILROAD BLAMELESS

Boston & Maine Not Responsible For Death of Williston L. Peabody

The Boston and Maine railroad, its agents or servants are not being held responsible for the death of Williston L. Peabody, a veteran fireman, aged 70 years, who on Dec. 4 was run over by a train on the Pawtucket canal bridge, according to a finding filed with the clerk of the police court by Justice John J. Pickman, who presided over the inquest.

It will be remembered that as a result of the accident, which occurred Dec. 4, Mr. Peabody had both legs amputated and died the following day at St. John's hospital.

Judge Pickman's finding is in part as follows:

"I find that on Wednesday, Dec. 4 last said Williston L. Peabody was walking on a path by the side of a railroad track of the Boston & Maine railroad, that is laid on the easterly side of the Pawtucket canal bridge and a short distance northerly of the Middlesex street railroad station in said Lowell, stepped from said path on which he was walking as aforesaid upon said easterly railroad track, when a train was running thereon in a northerly direction from said Middlesex street station, and slipped and fell on said track, and was run over by said train as aforesaid, whereby he received injuries that resulted in his death the day following the accident."

"I find that said Williston L. Peabody had no lawful right or authority to walk upon said path or said track adjoining the same."

"I find that the death of said Williston L. Peabody was not caused or contributed to by the criminal negligence of the Boston & Maine railroad or its agents or servants."

JOHN J. PICKMAN, Associate Justice of the Police Court.

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug That Loosens Corns So They Lift Out.

Local druggists are having a tremendous call for freezone, the drug which is said to shelve a corn, root and all, without any pain.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness at once, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers.

This new drug is being dispensed at small cost in quarter ounce bottles, which is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn from one's feet. It is a sticky substance which dries at once, and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. There is no excuse for anyone suffering from infection or lockjaw from cutting their corns now.

TUORILAINEN RELEASED

Exonerated From Any Connection With Murder of Mrs. Harry E. Brown

ROCKLAND, Me., Jan. 7.—Ollie Tuorilainen, exonerated from any connection with the murder of Mrs. Harry E. Brown, and possessing a certificate of innocence from Sheriff J. C. Hobbs, left today for Riley, to resume his work at a pulp mill there. He was accompanied to the railroad station by the lumberer at the county jail.

A fire engine was being used today to melt the snow and ice in the vicinity of Limerock street, where Mrs. Brown was killed to obtain possible evidence overlooked in the early investigation of the crime.

OPPOSES GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF R.R.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Opposition to government ownership or operation of railroads at this time, was expressed today by the interstate commerce commission, in a statement presented to the senate interstate commerce committee, at its hearing on railway legislation by Commissioner Edgar E. Clark.

"Considering and weighing as best we can, all of the arguments for and against the different plans," said the statement, "we are led to the conviction that with the adoption of appropriate provisions and safeguards for regulations under private ownership, it would not be wise or best at this time to assume government ownership or operation of the railroads of the country."

The commission declared, however, that "a reasonable degree of adjustment or preparation" should be allowed before relinquishing federal control. "It seems obvious," said the statement, "that no plan of private ownership should be considered unless it is under broadened, extended and amplified government regulation."

Commissioner Woolley dissented from the recommendation against continuation of government control and advocated adoption of Director-General McAdoo's suggestion for extension of federal management.

The commission presented a detailed program of proposed legislation in case railroads are returned to private management, providing for strict regulation by the government of rates, services, finances, security issues, and pooling of facilities and clarification of doubtful relationship between federal and state authority.

Civil War in Berlin

that the Spartacus on Sunday had seized the Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung, the Lokal Anzeiger, the Vorwarts, the Morgenpost, and the office of the Wolff bureau, the semi-official news agency.

Apparently the government retained control of the wireless service, for there came an official wireless message declaring that Germany was about to take diplomatic and military measures against the Russian bolshevik government for her protection.

The Spartacus faction has maintained close relations with the bolsheviks. Apparently it was the present of M. Radek, a bolshevik emissary from Russia, who has been propagating bolshevik ideas in co-operation with the Liebknecht group, that precipitated the Ebert government's declaration of a virtual state of war between Germany and Russia.

The Independent socialists, whose leaders were recently dismissed from the government, are reported to have gone over entirely to the Spartacus. These two groups have issued a joint proclamation declaring that the final fight to preserve the revolution must now be fought.

Plan Bolsheviki Revolution

Adolph Joffe and M. Radek, leaders of the Bolsheviki mission to Germany, are in Berlin assisting Dr. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg in fomenting a bolshevik revolution. According to advices received here, they are believed to be at the police headquarters which is the stronghold of the Spartacus.

Big Demonstration

BERLIN, Monday, Jan. 6, 1 p. m.—(By The Associated Press)—The Spartacus group engaged today in a big demonstration against the government. Tens of thousands of followers of Dr. Karl Liebknecht paraded Unter Den Linden and the Brandenburgerstrasse. As this despatch is filed, they are returning along Unter Den Linden. Up to this time, no shots have been fired. The Wilhelmstrasse from Unter Den Linden to below the Leipzigerstrasse, is packed full of government sympathizers who have been standing there for two hours. It appears to be the government's strategy to prevent the Spartacus' demonstration before the government offices.

First Fighting Occurs

Hundreds of youth and other civilians in the Spartacus ranks are carrying rifles. First fighting has occurred at the corner of the Wilhelmstrasse and Unter Den Linden, where the Bolsheviki demonstrators took away their opponents' standards. Spartacus soldiers took a stand in open order in front of the Hotel Adlon with their rifles ready, but there was no firing.

POLO NOTES
"Jigger" Higgins, the fastest and brilliant leader of the Worcester team will lead his charges into the cage at the Crescent rink tonight for a game against the climbing Lowell team. Jigger got back into the game last Saturday night after several days lay off and he directed his team to victory over Lowell. Higgins played a great game. With Higgins and O'Brien in the lineup the team is much stronger than when it last appeared here and indications point to a fast contest tonight.

Lawrence will play here next Friday night.

The Spindle City team win was no fluke, as the brand of polo exhibited last night would have won from any team in the league, for their playing style was a real advance through out and the 1000 fans who gathered proclaimed it to be the fastest and most exciting game of any played at the rink this season—Salem News.
